Oliver's is pleased to announce Dry Creek as the Winery of the Month for August

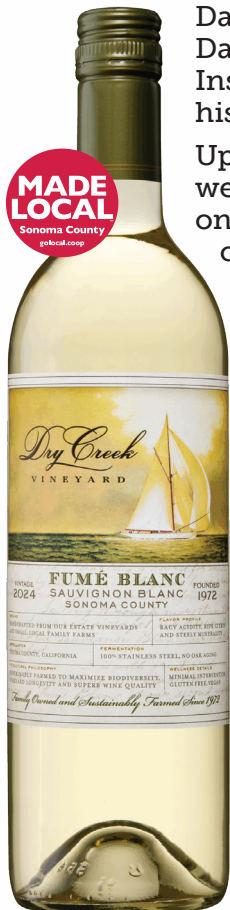

The history of Dry Creek Vineyard is long and colorful. Founded in 1972 by David S. Stare, Dry Creek Vineyard paved the way for a renaissance of winemaking and viticulture in the Dry Creek Valley.

Without a doubt, David Stare is a pioneer. Before his arrival, the Dry Creek Valley was little more than a few family farms and prune orchards. It was Dave's vision to start a Loire Valley-inspired winery that reintroduced consumers to the wines of northern Sonoma County.

Dave personified the character and work ethic of early Gold Rush pioneers. Educated at MIT, Dave worked for the B&O Railroad for several years but realized that his true calling was in wine. Inspired by his trips to the Loire Valley, Dave headed west to California in the early '60s to start his own family winery.

Upon his arrival, Dave enrolled in graduate level winemaking classes at UC Davis. On the weekends, he spent time looking at vineyard land from Monterey to Mendocino. It was during one of those weekend trips that Dave discovered the Dry Creek Valley. He spotted an old prune orchard near the Dry Creek General Store and realized that he had found his dream location.

He purchased the orchard and began planting vines. Captivated by his memories of Loire-style wines, Sauvignon Blanc was destined to figure prominently in his plans. However, several famed vineyard specialists advised against planting Sauvignon Blanc. Always defiant, Dave planted the varietal anyway and the rest, as they say, is history. Today, this second-generation family-owned winery continues to evolve and grow to meet the demands of a global wine marketplace. The primary mission of the winery is to produce distinctive wines that over-deliver on quality. For more than 30 years, this pursuit of winemaking excellence has led to many international awards and accolades. With a loyal customer following, the future of Dry Creek Vineyard has never been brighter.
