At Oliver's, our Real Everyday Values (REV) flyer features a variety of products at special savings for three whole months! We've worked with our vendors to secure special deals on new and interesting products, which enables us to pass along these long-term savings to our customers! You'll find hundreds of items in the flyer each quarter, and they're easy to spot in the store: just look for the teal REV tags.

This week, we're highlighting a wide variety of functional foods that can be found in this quarter's flyer. Functional foods offer health benefits beyond basic nutrition, providing additional physiological advantages like disease prevention or improved bodily function. Look for these great buys, along with hundreds of others, for the next three months!

Grab the flyer in-store.

SAVE THE GRAVENSTEIN

"Made from 100% heirloom Gravenstein apples grown on Roberts Orchard in Sebastopol, Save the Gravenstein is a single-varietal cider that captures the brightness of Sonoma's coastal orchards. Fresh-pressed, never from concentrate, and cold-fermented for a clean, bone-dry finish, it delivers crisp notes of citrus blossom and coastal minerality."

"The Apple That Defines Golden State Cider- In the rolling hills of Sonoma County, the heirloom Gravenstein apple has long been the heartbeat of local agriculture, bright, aromatic, and fleeting in its harvest. Once spanning thousands of acres, only a handful of these historic orchards remain today. At Golden State Cider, our mission has always been to keep apple trees in the ground, their stories alive, and to elevate what cider can be. From this single variety, we craft two expressions that honor the same fruit in distinct ways: Save the Gravenstein Cider and Golden State Apple Brandy. Save the Gravenstein celebrates the apple in its purest form, 100% fresh-pressed Sonoma County fruit, bone dry, unfiltered, and true to the orchard. From that same juice, we distill our Golden State Apple Brandy, aged patiently in French oak barrels to reveal deep notes of baked pear, maple, and caramel candied apple. Together, they tell the story of one heirloom apple from two perspectives, fresh and vibrant, golden and contemplative. From orchard to glass, this is Sonoma's legacy reimagined."
