Stone Fruit IS HERE!

Stone Fruit Season is here! This week at Oliver's, we're featuring tree-ripened organic stone fruit grown in California's Central Valley by fifth-generation farmer Nick Boldt. Known for growing unique varieties selected for flavor, not just appearance, Nick's peaches and nectarines are bursting with juicy sweetness and vibrant Summer flavor. Enjoy them fresh, grilled alongside savory dishes, folded into salads, or baked into cobblers and crisps. Taste the difference that careful farming and peak-season harvesting can make.
